War & Peace

12.01.19 by Lohkawas Wildmane

Like most of the history of Azeroth, Horde and Alliance working together and then warring against each other is a common enough story.

The Highmountain Shu'halo see things a bit differently than our Mulgore cousins when it comes to the Kaldorei, but the history is much the same.

Defeat the Legion, working together, then take offense and find reasons to clash in the fields and hills of Azeroth... until we find an Old God to stand shoulder to shoulder against.

Year 2 of Friendsgiving was an attempt by The Ashen Vale and Redwood Tribe to put the past behind and look forward to a new future. Redwood will bring the peace pipe to next year's meeting! Good things happen when you don't roast the Chieftain

Chief's Corner

Greatfather Winter is on the Way!

We have been enjoying fun with old friends and romping through Alterac Valley, but soon the times will change and we must gather our strength. We will be tried and tested, and we must get through this together.

If you have been reading the Times at all, I do not have to reiterate that I have friends among Horde and Alliance. Once this Old God is buried and gone, we must not fall back into the same pattern... we must learn from our shared history or we will just face more tragedy.

I know that Greatfather Winter is celebrated by both Horde and Alliance; so get your milk and cookies, your presents under the tree and for the Earth Mother's sake, and for all of us, protect this world side-by-side and do not look back!

*May the Earth Mother Guide Us!

Rumors from The Lazy Turnip

Unhappy Rogues

"It used to be simple to make a coin or two opening locked boxes in the Trade Quarter," muttered Cy, a young Void Elf rogue. Looking for the rogue, he can be seen hidden behind a bunch of balloons and "15" does not = gold, all emanating from treasure chests. Per numerous onlookers, this is all they have been receiving when their locked boxes are opened of late. Protests are scheduled at the Caverns of Time

Horde or Alliance - Which will Give First?

Lluagor or Baast? That is the question on everyone's lips as more and more Horde and Alliance or joining forces... and everyone wants to know which bar night are you going to?

While the Tribe strives for peace in a war-torn world, they are willing to stomp out all the campfires across Azeroth, because they are not on the menu tonight! So, until the alliance start fishing and stop hunting Shu'halo, this is the Tribe that will stop you. They enjoy boating, especially gliding out to sea in those nice galleons sitting in the Boralus harbor, mountain climbing from Dun Morogh to the peaks of Kul-Tiras, and they always enjoy a good fight! The Tribe enjoys BBQ, as well, and will bring plenty of Firewater to share with friends... Do you want to be friends? Or enemies? The choice is yours!

Tales from an Alternate Time

Azeroth Battle Reports:

Click for Calendar

11.29.2019 Attack on Stormwind

Blacktooth Grin led an Assault on Stormwind and later became a free for all in Searing Gorge and the Mountain itself.

The Horde mobilized in a show of strength. Tired of being on the defensive, it was time to show the Alliance that the Horde has the strength and determination to not only protect their own lands but to make the Alliance defend their own!

Pull your forces out of Horde lands, or suffer the consequences.

Hand of Lordaeron and more Take Lights Hope Chapel

12.04.2019 Undercity to Light's Hope

Hand of Lordaeron, along with a few kodo riding friends, sought to liberate Lights Hope Chapel from the Alliance, and succeeded if only for a short time until needed elsewhere in the Eastern Kingdoms.

One Shu'halo, upon seeing the Plaguelands, commented that here was another land that needed to be healed. Not only is the land barren, but a pallor hangs over it; a gloomier land can not be imagined.

A Meeting of Shadow and Flame

12.07.2019 Cleft of Shadows

Lok'tra Tribe hosted a meeting in Orgrimmar's Cleft of Shadows, answering questions designed to put other denizens of the Horde at ease about the nature of their "dark" magiks.

All seemed to be going well, until an eerie being began to break the wards of the safe meeting space.

awakened to his new undead life, could hear the complaining geist and was quick to give warning before harm could be done and the meeting could continue.

Sayengal Mistmournie was an awesome host and answered every question put to him to put his guests at ease about his craft and offered to assist in helping Redwood Tribe's Krip'yup with a little possession problem... if that is what it is!

Redwood Roadhouse

12.8.2019 - Booty Bay

If you want to know where the fun is, join Redwood for their famed Roadhouse parties, coming to various Inns and Port towns near you.

Admiral Kalmin graciously greeted the Redwood folks at his home in Booty Bay and then like most bar nights, there were stories, drinks, dancing... and falling down incoherently.

Luckily no one was injured and Khalthul was moved to one of the Inn's rooms on the second floor.

Join us for the next Roadhouse, TBD!

Things One Should Know

Gossip at The Broken Tusk

Spying Not Acceptable in Booty Bay

Blood spilled in the Inn at Booty Bay. Suggestions fly that the bruisers were bribed to look the other way as Alliance mercenaries found dead in the sleeping quarters on the second floor. When asked, Baron Revilgaz denied all knowledge. One Orc, often seen at the Inn, stated that earlier the mercenaries had been seen eavesdropping on some Trolls planning a journey to Gromgol Base... The Trolls never arrived and it seems as if payback has been enacted.

Cleft Wars

Warlocks run rampant in the shadow of Orgrimmar's underworld. Despite a successful discussion of the good Warlocks can do for the Horde, the fact remains that power corrupts... fel or any other kind of power. Eyes should be turned towards the shadows at all times. The only question is which Warlock will come out on top.

Call for Clean Water in Undercity

Safety Inspector Nby of Redwood Tribes calls into question the nature of the green water throughout the Undercity Canals. The fish are stripped clean to the bones and ... it bubbles. This should not take a safety inspector to see that it is unnatural and against the Earth Mother's design. Okwaho Skyseer's suggestion of a blessing ceremony to cleanse the waters, a "Greener" New Deal, is meeting pointed opposition.

Redwood Tribes News

Skyseer's View

I am Okwaho Skyseer, adviser to the Redwood Tribes, Seer of the Earthen Ring, and speaker to the editor that writes these words.

The fight to survive has intensified, but finally, the Horde has begun shaping itself to stand strong together.

We have been thrust together, mostly due to the Alliance failure to believe that each of us has a right to our lives and our lands. It is to be expected to take some time to learn of each other, grow acceptance, especially of the Undead that walk among us now, and there is always the doubts when you hear that the shadows conceal those that still seek power and look to undermine the Horde.

It is up to us to grow our relationships, and to that end, we will meet for Winter's Veil, celebrate with Father Winter and greet the new year as "The Horde"!
