Hallow’s End - Recipe-of-the-Month

G’huun’s Party Punch

Celebrate G’huun’s rise to power with friends with this Halloween blood punch. Enjoy!

- 1 (46-ounce) can red punch (i.e. Hawaiian Punch)
- 1 (46-ounce) can apple juice
- 1 (48-ounce) bottle cranberry juice (can use variations such as cran-grape/cran-apple)
- 1 (2-liter) bottle ginger ale
- Ice cubes
- Berry vodka (optional and age appropriate)
- Orange liqueur (optional and age appropriate)

Directions

- Combine all ingredients in a large punch bowl or pot. Add ice and stir.
- For grown up version, add 4 cups berry vodka and 1/2 cup orange liqueur.
- Ladle into serving glasses.

Special Report: Missing Gnomes

Have you seen these gnomes? They look lost! Redwood Tribe is reaching out to the five pink-haired gnomes below and looking to assist them in getting home. Though they look like other gnomes, these are special in many ways and friendly Shu'halo, want to help them. If you have information regarding the gnomes, please contact Redwood Tribe or Editor of Redwood Times.

This is a time when great strife continues to separate Horde and Alliance. But through it all, many gnomes came together to make a difference and many Horde rode by their sides or possibly infiltrated their ranks! There is much that affects all races of Azeroth and much that can be learned from the pink-haired gnomes. If Horde and Alliance can put aside their differences for a just and noble cause, then perhaps they can do so again before Azeroth is ripped apart. Beware the Sword in Silithus. Beware the Azerite that pours from the Earth Mother. And just Beware! May the Earth Mother watch over us! Lohkawas Wildmane, Editor-in-Chief
